

1 Be sure to register for 3rd annual "A Day of Dyslexia" on October 13th. Find out more at https://nc.dyslexiaida.org/ 	2 Place Dyslexia Fact Sheets in school lobby or on the school website. http://u.org/2wbD5ud 	3 Parent Voice: Identify a parent to share their experience at a faculty meeting. 	4 Contact the NC branch of the International Dyslexia Association for a presentation on dyslexia myths and facts. northcarolina.ida@gmail.com 	5 Check out the Reading Rope and share with a colleague or family. https://dyslexiaida.org/scarboroughs-reading-rope-a-groundbreaking-infographic/
8 Get started with Bookshare: Here's a webinar recording, slides, FAQs, and other resources so your students can start school strong. ow.ly/DTHb30ITgj4 	9 Form a book study of the book Basic Facts about Dyslexia at your school, church, or within your neighborhood. 	10 Meet Julianne Masser, a Ph.D. student in the School Psychology program at the University of Oregon, who was diagnosed with dyslexia in the 1st grade. https://improvingliteracy.org/events/interview-succeeding-dyslexia	11 Is your parent-teacher organization aware of the NC PTA Dyslexia Resolution? Read it here http://bit.ly/2pcnxTU 	12 Set your alarm for tomorrow morning! "A Day of Dyslexia" on October 13 https://nc.dyslexiaida.org/

October is Dyslexia Awareness Month

Weekend Events in North Carolina

- October 13, Day of Dyslexia: Free with live streaming option! More information and registration here: nc.dyslexiaida.org

15 Check out the Dyslexia Topic Brief and other resources on the NC Department of Public Instruction Specific Learning Disabilities page http://bit.ly/ECDdyslexia 	16 Enroll in Reading 101- a self-paced professional development course for K-3 teachers, developed by Reading Rockets in collaboration with IDA and CERl. 	17 Listen to a video from the AIM Academy Teachable Moments series Differences that Matter: Louise Spear-Swerling 	18 Choose a read-aloud book featuring a character with dyslexia http://u.org/2vu52gG 	19 Review Structured Literacy infographic http://bit.ly/2aqcqPH
22 Did you know the US Department of Education issued a memo about using the term dyslexia? Read it here http://bit.ly/1R8dtBj 	23 Check out this document from the NC Exceptional Children's Assistance Center Questions Parents Can Ask about Reading Improvement and Dyslexia 	24 Check out National Center for Improving Literacy website https://improvingliteracy.org/ 	25 Explore apps for students with LD and dyslexia. Here are some resources to explore: http://bit.ly/2wKCxew http://bit.ly/IB1hcw Cheesman PreK-K App 	26 Check your knowledge of dyslexia here quizzzy.rocks/dyslexiaawareness. To learn more about dyslexia, visit https://dyslexiaida.org/ 